	2. JOBS-TO-BE-DONE / PROBLEMSCreating a supervised machine learning model usingalgorithms to Identify the cause of employee attrition based on the following factors. work satisfaction, efforts, and the communication between company and Employees are some factors.	9. PROBLEM ROOT CAUSEBecause the time period is so long to manually analyses the causes in the employee attrition by their work This leads to the loss of human resources And other resources . Significant human effort is needed.	7. BEHAVIOURThe algorithm acts in a way that can reduce the time and effort needed by humans to manually compile and predict the causes of employee attrition. Additionally, it draws attention to the key specifications that contribute to employee attrition for the primary clients, the Corporate employees of other departments
